

Come and play at the

STELLAR STRINGS CONCERT

CONCERT DIRECTOR: KATE CONWAY

All LSG string players are invited to join one of our groups concerts at the Royal College of Music on Sunday 24th March 2024

STELLAR STRINGS CONCERT

All LSG string players are invited to join one of our groups concerts at the Royal College of Music on Sunday 24th March 2024. These concerts - previously held at Cadogan Hall - will showcase groups made up of individuals from all over London. There will be an online practise video, an online rehearsal the week before the concert, and in-person rehearsals on concert day. There will be two almost identical concerts so you will be at RCM for half a day, either from 9am - 1.30pm or 2pm - 6.30pm. It's free to perform and audience tickets start from £12.

Register early as places are limited. Students in the playtogether will have a brief rehearsal on the day and need to register to perform. Violas and advanced violins (book 8 and above) will be performing in the lunchtime concert and advanced cellos (book 5 and above) will perform in the evening concert. Both concerts will showcase violins up to book 6 and cellos up to book 4.

Join us for a fantastic rehearsal experience followed by an inspiring concert lasting just over an hour, hosted by Kate Conway.

Registration opens on the LSG website on Monday 8th January.